

Sign-up for the NASA Case Study Workshop!

Written by SUPPLYCHAIN ADMIN

Tuesday, 26 July 2011 18:09 - Last Updated Tuesday, 13 September 2011 15:04

Sign-up for the guided GSFC tour or one of two new seminars all offered on October 20th when registering for the conference. Space is limited for the GSFC tour, the two seminars, and the workshop which are offered concurrently on October 20th:

- Guided Tour (9am to noon) of GSFC Visitor Center and Facilities
- Seminar (8:15am to 12:15pm): Engineering Conversations for Action. Seminar Leader: Dan Berry, Director Quality Management Resources, Ball Aerospace & Technologies Corp.
- Seminar (8:15am to 12:15pm): Strategic Process Management and the Transition to the AS9100C Standard for Quality Management. Seminar Leader: Claes Berlin, Process Management AB, Senior Lecturer at the University of Borås in Sweden, and Executive MBA Program Director at the Stockholm School of Economics, Russia.
- Workshop (1:30pm to 2:30pm): NASA Case Study Workshop: Procurement of Mechanical Systems Engineering Services for GSFC. Workshop Facilitator: Edward W. Rogers, Chief Knowledge Officer, NASA/GSFC

Participation in the tour and the seminars is restricted to those attending Supply Chain 2011. Sign up for the seminar when registering for the conference. There are no fees for the conference, the tour, seminars, or the workshop.

If you have any questions regarding the seminar, Jonathan Root, GSFC's conference manager for Supply Chain 2011(

jonathan.f.root@nasa.gov

). Contact Charles Kim (

charles.k.kim@nasa.gov

) for additional information on the GSFC tour.